

Moto Guzzi Dondolino 500

The Moto Guzzi Dondolino, produced between 1945 and 1951, is a legendary Italian racing motorcycle renowned for its performance and engineering excellence. Designed specifically for the racetrack, the Dondolino was favored by privateer racers for its reliability and competitive edge. This particular model, believed to be from 1955, is a rare find, especially in such preserved condition.

As a dedicated race bike, this Dondolino is equipped with a 494.8cc overhead valve (OHV) air-cooled horizontal single-cylinder engine, capable of producing approximately 33 horsepower at 5,500 rpm, and reaching top speeds around 110 mph (177 km/h). Due to its exclusive circuit use, the motorcycle lacks a speedometer and frame number, which was customary for race bikes of this era. These features underscore its authentic racing heritage.

This 1955 Moto Guzzi Dondolino 500 Racer offers a unique opportunity to own a significant piece of motorcycle racing history. Its combination of engineering prowess, racing success, and authentic features makes it a valuable addition to any collection. Contact us today for more details or to arrange a viewing!
