

Suzuki GSXR 750

Suzuki GSX-R750 | 1985 | 19,717 km | Original & Unrestored

This 1985 Suzuki GSX-R750 is a true icon from the early days of the superbike era. It was one of the very first race-replica machines built for the road, introducing a lightweight aluminum frame and aggressive styling that set the tone for decades of sportbike design.

This particular GSX-R750 comes in a striking red/black color scheme and is entirely original and unrestored—just the way collectors love to find them. It has only 19,717 km on the clock and carries Belgian registration, with export documents included. You'll find some minor signs of use, which are clearly visible in the photos, but no damage or modifications. A true time capsule from the golden age of Japanese engineering, ready for your collection or to enjoy on the road.
